

Still 'Free' Eventually, GC Secondary Treatment in Need of Funds

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City is facing a financial dilemma in its need to raise $400,000 for additional engineering work on its proposed new secondary sewage treatment plant which the state and federal governments say must be completed and in operation by Dec. 31, 1973.

As a result, the problem could delay development of both the treatment plant project and sewer treatment service to Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

The townships propose, under sponsorship of Madison County, the construction of an interceptor sewer system that would tie into Granite City sewer lines for both primary and secondary treatment.

A suggestion by Mayor Donald Partney that the city might be able to raise funds for engineering fees and thus proceed with detailed planning for the secondary plant by obtaining "advance" funds from the township project was described by officials involved in the township program as "impossible."

Under present plans, the township group made up of the supervisors of Venice, Nameoki, Granite City and Chouteau townships, propose to build the interceptor sewers through Granite City's three adjoining townships and then "buy" treatment service from Granite City under a rental fee system that would guarantee the city about 20% of the cost of the interceptor construction.

Await Cost Estimate

The township program is separate from the city's project for construction of the secondary sewage treatment plant. No cost estimate of the township program has yet been advanced, since plans still are being prepared.

The city, on the other hand, has completed preliminary plan reports which estimate total cost of the treatment plant, necessary city interceptor lines and stormwater overflow facilities at $15.3 million.

These reports and preliminary plans were prepared by M.W. Inc., St. Louis engineering firm, at a cost of $102,000.

The reports have been filed with the Illinois State Environmental Protection Agency and federal anti-pollution agencies from which the city expects to receive 80% of the overall construction costs in outright grants.

Mayor Partney has pointed out repeatedly that since the federal government is expected to pay about 80% of the plant construction cost, the state 20%, and the townships 20%, Granite City will be acquiring its new plant at virtually no cost to the city.

The city, however, must carry out all of the necessary preliminary work, including an actual start on construction, before it is likely to obtain either state or federal money.

It is certain that the city will receive no funds from the township project until that planning also is finalized, bonds issued and work on the interceptor sewers begun.

Walter Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau township and a frequent spokesman for the sponsors of the township sewer program, said that Mayor Partney's suggestion that the township group might be able to advance the city some of its funds for city engineering purposes "is impossible even to think about."

"In the first place, we haven't completed our preliminary planning, although that should be done soon," Sparks added. "We will not have any funds until we finalize our plans, obtain federal and state approval and sell our bonds. It will be some time before we have funds to work with," Sparks added.

The supervisor said he expects to meet within the next two weeks with representatives of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab which is handling the engineering for the township sewer program, and other officials of the township group, to consider the interceptor sewer preliminary plan.

"The engineers said they are about finished with the preliminary planning, so I hope to get the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to attend that meeting also," Sparks added.

90% Complete

Edward Juneau of the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab firm, said the township interceptor plans "are about 90% complete" and should be ready for a meeting with the township officials soon.

The Granite City council, informed by the mayor that the city needs time to find money for the rest of its engineering work, has instructed the M-W engineering firm to discontinue work on the project until further notice.

In presenting preliminary plan reports on the sewerage treatment plant to city council members, Ray C. Haller, vice-president of the M-W firm, told the council the balance of the engineering work, including preparation of detailed plans and specifications, supervision and inspection will total about $400,000.

The city is unable to secure either federal or state grants to solve the problem of engineering fees. Haller told the

Woman at Store Beaten, Robbed

A robber beat and seriously injured the proprietor of Kelly's Confectionery, 2901 Iowa St., and a clerk was held up at gunpoint at Champion's Food Mart, 2205 Ponton Road—in two robberies here last night.

Mrs. Essie West, 65, proprietor of the confectionery, was beaten in the kitchen of her residence behind the store at 7 p.m. Sunday as she was counting the day's receipts from the store.

A man is believed to have entered through the front door of the store, locked the door behind him, walked back to the kitchen area and struck Mrs. West on the face and body several times. He then took an undetermined amount of money and fled through a rear door.

Mrs. West, in a dazed condition walked into the store area and unlocked the front door. Four young boys who were "trick-or-treating" in the neighborhood entered, found her wandering through the store and called police.

An ambulance was dispatched and took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she was admitted with a large hematoma to her forehead and temple. X-rays were taken of her head, face, back and chest. She was in fair condition today.

In a separate occurrence, a man entered the Champion store at 7:58 p.m. Sunday, took a carton of soft drinks and a loaf of bread from the shelves and took them to a checkout lane where Mrs. Lana Lupardus, 2515 Morrison Road, was working.

As Mrs. Lupardus began to check out the items, the man displayed a pistol from a paper bag he was carrying and said, "Don't move anything!"

Mrs. Lupardus gave the man currency from the cash register and he told her, "Hand me whatever is under the drawer, too." She complied and the bandit told her to back away from the register slowly, adding that he would shoot her if she moved too fast.

He then left the store through the front door and fled on foot. Police were called and searched the area.

The robber was described as of medium build, about five feet, eight inches tall, with dark hair and wearing a tan jacket and a plaid, narrow-crimped hat. His teeth were in poor condition.

There were two employees and three customers in the store when the robbery took place.

Evidence In Criminal Cases Gone

Theft from a safe in the office of Circuit Clerk Willard Portell at Edwardsville of evidence in two criminal cases, including $822 in cash, was under investigation today by the Madison County Sheriff's Department, which said it has secured permission to give lie detector tests to Portell and all employees in his office.

Detective Roy Walker of the sheriff's office—who has been placed in charge of the investigation—said evidence is missing in two criminal cases, one 1968 case in which Robert Stanton was charged with the burglary of the Melville Dairy Store in Godfrey, and the other a 1970 case in which three men were charged with robbery of Conko's Market in Granite City.

The theft was announced Saturday by Portell, who said he requested a thorough investigation immediately upon being made aware that the evidence files were missing, and that he had notified Chief Circuit Judge Michael Kinney and County Auditor John Kraynak of the situation.

"This is the first time such a thing as this has happened in my office and I feel a full investigation is warranted."

Laclede Steel Earnings Up in Third Quarter

Laclede Steel Co. President Paul B. Akin in a letter to stockholders Friday reported third-quarter earnings of $907,074, or $2.94 per share.

He commented, "These earnings are a welcome improvement over last year's third-quarter loss of $562,680."

Akin said Laclede's earnings for the first nine months of this year were $1,339,395, or $6.49 a share, compared to last year's loss of $3,506,994 for the same period.

The president explained to the stockholders, "Although third-quarter shipments were high and were above the steel industry

Extend General Steel Deadline

A contract extension until Nov. 19 to permit further negotiation on terms of a new working agreement was approved Friday by officials of General Steel Industries and representatives of United Steelworkers Union Local 1022.

The Steelworkers' old contract expires at 11:59 p.m. today.

George Becker, representative of the Granite City subdistrict of the United Steelworkers of America, said that under the agreement union members will continue working under terms of the old contract until 11:59 p.m. Nov. 19.

A company spokesman said negotiations will continue on a daily basis in an effort to reach agreement on new contract terms before the new deadline.

Union and company officials have been meeting in lengthy contract talks for the past several weeks, some of the more recent sessions lasting up to 15 hours; it was learned.

Consider All Issues

Negotiators for both sides are considering contract provisions covering all issues, including wages and fringe benefits.

Gilbert Kannenberg, U.S. Mediator of the Conciliation and Mediation Service of St. Louis, has been sitting in on negotiation sessions.

Officials of the Boilermakers Union Local 530, which has about 250 employees in the General Steel castings division plant, have asked the company to reopen negotiations. The Boilermakers Union contract expires at 11:59 Dec. 1.

A company spokesman said arrangements have not yet been made to open these talks.

Pin Found in Candy Bar Given to Child

Two incidents in which candy had been tampered with and given to trick-or-treaters were reported in the Quad-City area last night.

A candy bar with a straight pin in it was given to Tammy Wright, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wright, 2715 Buxton Ave., while she and four other children trick-or-treated in a three block area near her home. The children were accompanied by Mr. Wright who found the pin in the candy bar about 8 p.m.

In another incident, Ponton Beach police are investigating a report that bubble gum which had been tampered with was given to children in the Lakeview Estates Subdivision. In one case, a piece of gum had been opened and a human hair, one foot long, had been inserted.

County Board Filing Begins

Spirited campaigns for election to supervisor posts in Madison County's newly redivided areas began today as the Quad-Cities—appeared certain today as the filing period for 17 candidates filing primary opened this morning at the office of County Clerk Eula H. H. Edwards.

Filing will end Nov. 8 and the deadline for withdrawals is Nov. 12.

A rush of candidates greeted the opening of the filing period with 17 candidates filing positions this morning. Fifteen of these were Democrats and two were Republicans.

One contest between two incumbent Granite City assistant supervisors who are both residents of District 19 developed when William B. Webb and Ford G. Johnson filed petitions of candidacy.

Nelson Hagnauer, supervisor of Granite City township filed as a candidate in District 20. He may have opposition from Dan Chvorich, an incumbent assistant supervisor who lives in the same district. Chvorich had not filed this morning.

Only other Granite City candidates filing today were Carl Roach, incumbent assistant supervisor of District 21, and Herbert Milton, filing in District 22.

Files in Landolt District

H. Jack Frandsen of Alhambra filed as a candidate in District 3, in which County Board Chairman Harold Landolt also would file if he seeks reelection. Frandsen lost the supervisor post to Landolt by 12 votes in April, 1970.

Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, also filed petitions today. He is expected to have opposition from Edgar Patrick, now Nameoki Township collector.

In redistributing of the county last summer under the Supreme Court "one man—one vote" doctrine, a 29-member board from substantially equal population was created, reducing the present county board by 20 members.

Arrangements for the Feb. 8 primary election proceeded in Madison County today after a bill to combine the county board elections with the regular county, state and district elections next year was defeated in the Illinois Senate Thursday.

Miss Holts announced that paper ballots will be used in both the county board primary and election due to the closeness of the elections next year. The regular primary is in March. The statute sets dates for inspection of voting machines prior to their use, which would make it impossible to use the machines in both the February and March primaries.

In addition, use of paper ballots will save considerable election expense because the ballots in the county election will be small.

Plant Worker Suffers High-Voltage Shock

Raymond K. Smith, 47, of 3226 Westchester Drive, is listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit at St. Mary's Hospital, Clayton, Mo., where he was taken Friday morning after suffering a severe electrical shock at the A. O. Smith plant where he was working.

He has not regained consciousness since the accident, which occurred at about 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Smith, a project engineer at the plant, received an electrical shock of from 1200 to 1400 volts of electricity. Witnesses said he came in contact with a live, high-voltage wire. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to the St. Louis Hospital.

Glen Carbon Treats May Contain Razor Blades

Local Halloweeners who received treats in the Glen Carbon and Edwardsville areas this weekend are urged to carefully check any apples or fig cookies before eating.

Glen Carbon Police Chief Bill More said today a number of apples and cookies have been turned over to him containing razor blades. Many Granite City and Madison youngsters were seen trick or treating in his area, the police official said.

Church Pastor Attends Counseling Seminar

Pastor Arvin Twietmeyer of Concordia Lutheran Church, 23rd Street and Grand Avenue participated in a Special Marriage and Family Counseling Seminar conducted by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Pastor Twietmeyer was one of 24 Lutheran clergymen from the area invited to take part in the seminar directed by Rev. Edwin J. Fritz, project director of the Pastoral Training Program for Family Counseling of the church's Board of Parish Education in St. Louis.

The seminar program is designed to give the pastors an exposure to the dynamics of human behavior, and training in the skills and techniques of counseling to equip him to be most effective in counseling with people having marriage and family problems. To achieve this goal, the clergyman met for eight days of sessions in a period of two weeks.

"Two accents of the program are the strengthening of the pastor's own family relationship and to facilitate his outreach into the community," said Rev. Fritz, who developed the particular seminar approach. So far, eight seminars have been held since March 1, 1970, when the program began.

At the end of the sessions, Pastor Twietmeyer said, "It was a uniquely rewarding experience to be in the company of 24 pastors and their wives, who in a completely honest and accepting atmosphere, while working to understand problems of human behavior, found previous puzzles to finally fall in place and were able to confirm patterns which before were only suspected. In better understanding my own self I surely have become a far better counselor."

During the two-week seminar Pastor Twietmeyer also was trained in the use of the Taylor Johnson Temperament Analysis and was registered for its use. "I expect to find the analysis most helpful for counseling individuals and couples before and after marriage," he stated.

Nineteen seminars have already been scheduled for various regions of the country — "enough to last through 1973," Pastor Fritz said, "and we are going to schedule 25 before taking another look at the program." In some areas, it is necessary that expert advisors be brought in from far away to provide leadership and counseling.

UF Agencies Help When Trouble Strikes

You pride yourself that you don't need help from anyone. Nice, until something happens and you find yourself ragged and hungry. Then independence is forgotten. But where to turn? When the unforeseen strikes, assistance is available in the Quad-Cities through United Fund agencies: Protestant Welfare, the Red Cross, and the USO.

"I wish there were no USO. It would be great if there were no wars. This is wishing for peace and heaven. But these conditions do not exist."

"We need the United Fund and the USO and all the other agencies because wars, hunger, and disease are realities we must live with—and do something about," said Ray Uram, national council member to the USO from the Quad-City area.

What the USO does is make the 2 million servicemen who defend our country feel a little closer to home. Mr. Uram is especially concerned that the 1,400 Quad-Cities men now serving in the Armed Forces have a choice of wholesome activities around the world.

Touch of Home
These centers provide recreation, educational resources, and a touch of home through USO hostesses to the soldiers, sailors, and airmen have options other than a drinking binge, a prostitute, or a need to occupy free time.

That men do enjoy the alternative activities offered by the USO is evidenced by the 200,000 men in Vietnam alone who last year made 31 million visits to USO centers.

Another proof that USO works is the interest of men at the Depot USO projects. When volunteers were needed for the USO Fun Fair booth, Ray Uram had no recruiting problems. Col. Billy O'Neal and Lt. John Hengel also have been cooperative with USO activities. The government provides no financial support to the organization, however.

While the USO aids servicemen over the long haul of their military duty, the Red Cross takes care of the emergencies that arise with military men and their families.

The Red Cross also provides emergency services to disaster victims—a disaster by Red Cross definition is a tragedy involving five or more families whose homes burn or flood or receive tornado damage. There are about two such disasters a year in the Quad-Cities area.

Always on Call

Local Red Cross personnel are on call 24 hours a day for civilian and military family needs. Most Red Cross emergency work is with military families to arrange leaves, leave extensions, advance allotment funds, or find information concerning relatives' loved ones.

"The distance between husband and wife is crucial—it's a complication young couples really don't need. And mothers, I have found, simply don't want their sons overseas," said Ray Overbeck, Red Cross coordinator and counselor of many servicemen's families in the area. Mrs. Overbeck has been with the Red Cross for 20 years and in that time has smoothed over many problems. The strength of the Red Cross is the chapter affiliates and Field Service directors on bases that give the local office here contact with almost any place in the world. In this way information can easily be exchanged — so that a serviceman can be notified, for instance, that his mother is near death, get emergency leave and advancement of plane fare, and be home within 24 hours. The Red Cross verifies the need for all emergency leaves.

In addition, the Red Cross runs the Bloodmobile, community swim program, and teaches first aid to the people who need to know—Girl Scout leaders, civil defense workers, firemen, police, and Bi-State bus drivers. Through the Red Cross Youth program young people are encouraged to think about other people—they visit nursing homes, orphanages, and Scout Air Base hospital.

Meets Basic Needs
Protestant Welfare meets the basic needs of people who are unemployed, disabled or involved in an emergency. The United Fund agency provides food, clothing, counseling by ministers, medical equipment, and mobile meals to the sick.

In September alone, 15 people were given orders of food or clothing, and 171 persons received a total of $615 in relief. But not all people helped by Protestant Welfare are disaster victims—many are like the David family.

When Mrs. David had a stroke a few years ago the doctor recommended a walker for her exercise therapy. The Davids came to Protestant Welfare to see if they might borrow one. They got it, and Mrs. David is now walking quite well—and still smiling.

The David's aren't poor—the works in the core room at General Steel, and will retire in January after 30 years with the company. It's been a fair share giver to the United Fund for as long as it has been around.

Raised 24 Children
But the Davids have raised 24 children—four of their own, three grandchildren (their daughter died), 15 foster children, and two adopted children. And none of these kids ever has been in serious trouble.

They are thankful that their one son (actually grandson) who was unconscious for a year as a result of an auto accident is now not only conscious but also has full mental ability and is making fine progress in walking—despite doctor's predictions.

When told the kids were lucky to find parents like them they replied, "No. We were fortunate to have these children to watch them grow. There's nothing like kids to keep you young, nappy, alive, and content." Mrs. David said.

Since the David's don't have a whole lot of extras, "because we spent what we had on the kids," Protestant Welfare is more than happy to help the Davids and people like them when they need help. These agencies will help you when you need help, too. Will you help the agencies when they need help?

Patrolman Files Suit For Sick Leave Pay

A suit has been filed by Granite City Patrolman Richard Bell against Mayor Donald Partney to recover sick leave payments allegedly owed to him since Oct. 1.

Bell alleges he was dropped from the city employees' roster on that date. He asks a court order that he be reinstated on the roster. He also asks that sick leave allegedly owed to him under the city's sick leave ordinance be paid.

The ordinance provides that upon retirement, an employee may file for one-third of his accumulated unused sick leave days, the number of days not to exceed 30, Bell's complaint stated.

Inexpensive Gift Items For Servicemen Listed

A local serviceman who will be spending his first Christmas away from home in Vietnam and a young woman on duty with the Women's Army Corps at Fort Dix, N. J., are included in today's edition of 'Yule Mail Call'.

Information provided by the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter also is listed which describes the type of small gift items most requested by military personnel stationed in Southeast Asia.

Specialist 4 Ronald L. Dunnivant will be away from home for his first Christmas, according to a note from his family here. The soldier is based with the 133rd Medical Detachment at the 24th Evacuation Hospital, near Binh Hoa, Vietnam.

Mrs. Esther Shane, 221 Monroe St., submitted the name of her daughter, Private First Class Carolyn A. Shane, who is with the Women's Army Corps at Fort Dix, N. J.

The Press-Record's pre-Christmas listing is open to military personnel based overseas or at home. In the past five years, more than 2,600 names and addresses of local servicemen have been published prior to the Yule holidays.

To guarantee mail delivery in time for the Christmas season, relatives and friends of Quad-City servicemen are reminded to submit the names and addresses to the newspaper as soon as possible for inclusion in the sixth annual 'Yule Mail Call' project.

Additional lists will be published in each edition of the newspaper as information becomes available. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear.

Those contributing military personnel's names and addresses to the special project are asked to send in the details by letter or postal card, or bring the written information (printed) to the Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave.

To ensure accuracy, it is important to list the serviceman's name, rank, serial number and full address, including APO, FPO when applicable. Zip code numbers should be used when listing addresses in the continental United States.

The area of service may be noted in parenthesis following the regular mailing address, if desired. Persons submitting a name to the list are asked to identify themselves on the postcard or paper in the event verification of complex unit numbers is necessary.

The cutback in troops in Vietnam has left the servicemen still there "lonelier, than ever as others go home," a spokesman said.

3 Days in Which To Cool Impulse Buying at Door

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD—Illinois consumers who answer the doorbell and wind up agreeing to buy 5,000 left-handed gloves or a lifetime course in cross-country lessons are not without help in getting out of their impulsive contracts.

Under a recent change in the law, business firms not previously covered but which, in 1971, and a payroll of $1,500 or more in a calendar quarter, or one to three employees in at least 20 weeks, will become subject to the law.

Previously exempt non-profit organizations with four or more employees in at least 20 weeks in 1971 also will come under the law.

Linton said the mailing of the registration forms will be completed by Nov. 30. Recipients of the forms are being asked to complete and return them within 10 days.

He pointed out that every small business firm and each non-profit organization affected by the change in the law is required to register.

Linton emphasized that any such firm or organization which does not receive the form by Nov. 30 should immediately write to obtain one from the Division of Unemployment Compensation, 165 North Canal St., Chicago, Ill. 60606.

word he has changed his mind.

Therefore, Scott said, Illinois law starts to count the three-day "cooling off" period at the time the consumer learns the address the sales company.

Traditionally, set of reference books, magazines, appliances such as vacuum cleaners, and home repairs such as furnace and roofing repairs have been the most popular areas in which high-pressure "salesmen" operate.

The attorney general urged anyone agreeing to extensive and expensive home repairs to deal only with locally-owned firms, or with organizations whose other work in the area can be identified and inspected.

He also urged those signing sales agreements and contracts from door-to-door salesmen to sign only if the document clearly states the name, address and phone number of the company — as well as the terms of the sale and a full description of the product or service involved.

Miss Judith Hamilton, Joseph Brule Are Wed

Miss Judith Lynne Hamilton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hamilton, 2412 Angela Drive and Joseph Lanier Brule, son of Mrs. Yvonne Brule, 2224 Washington Ave. and the late Joseph Brule Sr., were united in marriage at Concordia Lutheran Church Oct. 23.

The Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer performed the 7 p.m. ceremony under an altar with bouquets of pink gladioli and maroon mums. Miss Debby Fechte, organist, gave a recital of wedding selections preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of re-embroidered nylon designed with a fitted bodice, square neckline and a tiered skirt gathered at a high waistline and encircled with a self belt. The puffed sleeves were gathered into a band of lace and extended into full length sleeves.

A satin bow formed the headpiece along a shoulder-length bouffant veil of black illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, red Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Sharon Diekmann was matron of honor and Miss Marilyn Gonterman, Miss Diane Winter and Miss Patti Brule, the groom's sister, were bridesmaids.

They were attired in formal length gowns styled with cranberry colored bodices and Persian printed velvet skirts in midnight blue, mauve, self pink and cranberry colors.

They were fashioned with low scoop necklines, long set-in sleeves and full skirts with a contrasting sash at the waist. Cranberry velvet bows were worn in their hair and each carried a basket of pink carnations, maroon pom poms and baby breath.

Harold Vick was best man serving with Cornelio Ybarra and Craig Haynes as groomsmen. Dale Koester, a cousin of the bride, and Paul Caban acted as the ring bearers.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony at Pontoon Beach recreation hall. After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks the couple moved into their home in Collinsville.

Mrs. Hamilton chose for her daughter's wedding an ivory crepe, A-line dress, street length, featuring a scoop neckline and three-quarter length bell sleeves and matching accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Brule was attired in a plum colored crepe frock with long sleeves and black accessories. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School. The former Miss Hamilton is employed as a secretary with General American Life Insurance. Her husband attended SIU-SW and is employed by J. L. Marsh Co., St. Louis.

Registered Bridal Consultant
HUDSON JEWELERS
Granite City and Edwardsville

A Bride-to-Be in old Ceylon had a real problem when it came time to invite friends to the wedding. The prime requisite was a good, fast runner.

This bearer of good news would have to run from house to house, from village to village with the invitations. If the Groom was a chief, or a relative of a chief, the runner would present the invited guests with a large packet of betel leaves and a garland of flowers. If the Groom was lesser than a relative of a chief, the invited guests would receive only two betel leaves.

Isn't you glad you don't have to seek out a bushel of betel leaves and a garland of flowers to make an invitation to your friends and relatives?

Hudson can serve you with a complete line of Invitations, Announcements, Reception Cards, Thank You Notes, Mr. and Mrs. Cards . . . even pre-printed Reception Nominations. It's a great deal of fun to choose your own Paper Trousseau and type style at Hudson's. So bring your Groom-to-Be along.

While you are here, be sure to register as a future bride. Choose your Silver, China and Crystal pattern of the same time. It will make gift shopping much easier for your friends.

As a Registered Bridal Consultant, I'm sure I can help you with the many questions you have. There is no charge for this service. Call me, won't you?

Group Finds Many Enchanted Evenings in the South Pacific

One usually starts humming "Some Enchanted Evening" when thinking about the South Pacific. For Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pape, 2688 Edison Ave., Mrs. Viola Edwards, 3705 Franklin Ave., and Sally Burns, Collinsville, it was some enchanted 26 days.

Retired teacher Gladys Pape and semi-retired Al Pape, along with Mrs. Edwards, who teaches at St. Elizabeth School, agree it was an unforgettable experience. Without a doubt, travel is their hobby; they have been to 17 countries in Europe, including Spain, Portugal, Morocco and Greece, and all the states.

They hope to go soon to the Holy Land and Orient. Their hobby was started in 1941.

For guide Sally Burns, her job, though strenuous, could not be more satisfying. Besides guiding and caring for her family, she also is employed in public relations for Presley Tours.

Besides the tour guide, the 16-member group had the added help of a local guide at each stop. The first stop outside the U. S. was Papeete, Tahiti.

Tahiti is said to be just as Hawaii was 50 years ago. Hand some men and beautiful black-haired women complement Tahiti's breathtaking view.

Touring the black and white sandy beaches enroute to Point Venus, the Gauguin Museum, visitors conclude the beauty of Tahiti can only be matched by the island of Moorea, which also boasts the Bali Hai Hotel.

Tomorrow meant New Zealand. "Down under" New Zealand, where one goes from summer to 50-degree weather, arriving in Auckland after crossing the international Dateline saving a day, and wearing coats.

Velvet New Zealand with its almost extinct Kiwi bird; where the "L" for learners on the license plate is often mistaken by foreigners, to mean lady driver; where the Wailonga Glowworm cave seems like a wonderland.

Where walking through the Rotomahana Thermal Reserve reminds one of walking on the moon; and where the cooking is easy. It was not unusual to see people cooking in their homes by using the thermal steam in this "never-never" area.

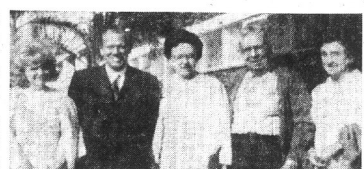

New Zealand, via Christchurch, had to pass. The group felt richer by having been there after their wallets became the sheepskin rugs on sale, were poorer.

After they left Christchurch, on the east coast of the South Island, Australia was the next destination. Melbourne—pronounced Melburn to please the Aussies—has many points of interest.

The great equalizer, "time," often proves a cruel master. Australia has so much to offer. The Parliament of the commonwealth, located at Canberra, is considered a priceless heritage from the Mother of Parliaments, England.

Canberra lived up to its reputation as one of the most well-planned cities. It was planned by Walter Burley Griffin, an American, in 1913. "For green boulevards encircling the hills of the proposed city area."

San Francisco's sister city,

SURFERS' PARADISE on the Australia "gold coast" being visited by (left to right) Sally Burns, Robert Presley, Mrs. Gladys Pape, Al Pape and Mrs. Viola Edwards.

Sydney, was just that.

The group had mixed opinions as to whether the controversial Opera House at Sydney. Some thought it favored the mouths of a group of penguins, while others thought it resembled the Palm Beach area make up for what the Opera House may lack.

And the Koala bears and kangaroos made the tour seem more fantasy than fact. The tourists found themselves in the middle, petting a "kong" of kangaroos.

Coolangatta was the next stop on the way to Surfers' Paradise, the Miami of 50 years ago. Beaches rated well and the Currumbin Bird Sanctuary was the favorite of the group, followed by the Revolving Barrier Reef Aquarium.

The Great Barrier Reef is to Australia what the Grand Canyon is to the U. S. Hayman Island was reached by helicopter from Mackay.

They took a cruise to Observing Point, where they, through glass-bottom boats, viewed the great coral reef. It stretches for 1200 miles along the Queensland coast. The coral comes in almost any hue.

Fascinating Fiji again introduced summer to the group. Rice paddies and cane fields appreciate the heat. And everyone visiting Fiji enjoys the unspoiled beauty of the surrounding countryside with a glimpse of the Fijian way of life.

In an act of friendship, Kava is sometimes served. It is considered an honor to be selected for this drink, and the formalities include clapping once, drinking in one gulp and then clapping three times, for luck. Kava, the root of pepper shrubs, is scraped of its rind and sliced into small pieces. The pieces are chewed and the lumps are placed in a bowl with water and stirred. Then it is strained through the fiber of hibiscus bark, and a green, milky fluid results.

It is said there is only one thing worse than drinking kava—having it offered twice during the same evening.

Virtually 100% of Fijians are professing Christians. Fiji is to the South Pacific what Italy is to Europe—a buyer's paradise, with emphasis on wood-carvings.

Dear Nana--Occupational Therapy at Low Cost; Magazines for Rest Homes

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:
In a rest home where I worked we had a problem of doing a lot of occupational therapy on a small budget.

Here are a few of the low-cost items I thought might be of interest to your readers and other activity directors who are in this type of work.

We used scraps of prepacked wallpaper to cover ice cream boxes, cut lids out of cardboard and covered them. Hinges were stapled on elastic. Trim was rickrack, tape, plastic flowers or anything pretty that came to hand. A nice catch was made with a clamp-on earring on the basket and stapled on loop on the lid. Closet boxes for gloves, hose and so on were made to match.

Hot plate mats were made by putting decals on various colored ceramic tiles. Pillows were made of various scraps (old neckties are fine) and were filled with shredded plastic garment bags.

Beautiful flower arrangements were made with bases of driftwood or other polished wood (manzanita is lovely). Holes were bored to hold candles. Dried weeds were sprayed with gold or silver.

Plastic ivy was often added with certain traditional flowers at Christmas. Old flowers were used but sprayed with paint to freshen them. Just price these arrangements at a florist.

Our most rewarding project was dressing and restoring dolls. These can be picked up for a few cents at the thrift shops. Most shops that handle wigs will donate ones that do not sell. These make new hair for the dolls.

Clothing is made of scraps. Shoes can be crocheted in a few minutes. There are many children who would love these toys.

My own pet cause is Indian children.

These projects can all be made without cost except for glue and paint. It only takes a good eye for scavenging. Our items sold well in our gift shop and brought in the money needed for the few materials we had to buy.

The covered ice cream boxes are fine for hats, knitting, sewing, etc. And they are very pretty too. Dried cattails make lovely arrangements.

For Christmas we used dried mistletoes in various lengths, hung with tiny colored Christmas balls and mounted on a styrofoam base.

Styrofoam balls covered with beads, costume jewelry, sequins or any pretty little gadgets make beautiful Christmas balls. Silk balls can be made, stuffed with cotton, sachet powder, and trimmed with tiny plastic flowers for closets. Styrofoam bases should be sprayed with snow.

H. A.
Dear H. A.:
Thank you for your very interesting and informative letter pertaining to occupational therapy projects.

And I'm sure that many of my readers and those working in this field will also appreciate your suggestions.

Dear A. D.:
I suggest you contact your local Department of Human Resources. I'm sure they'll be able to advise you if you're eligible for unemployment benefits according to your present status.

Dear Nana:
Your handwriting indicates you're a very determined person. Am I right?

If you'll send me four paragraphs about some places you've been recently I'll be glad to give you an analysis. I learned to do this 30 years ago and I like to keep my hand in by doing it occasionally.

Handwriting
Thank you for the offer of the handwriting analysis. I had this done several years ago by a professional handwriting expert and his analysis certainly gave a perfect description of me. However, it would be interesting to see if your analysis proved to be the same.

Dear Nana:
I'm a foreign exchange architecture student, traveling throughout the United States.

And I'm wondering if you can help me earn some money while I'm here.

I do some drawing but I don't know anyone to contact regarding this profession. I'd be grateful for any advice you can give me.

Dear Architecture Student:
Although the sample drawings you sent me appear to be more of a commercial nature than architectural, I'm not an art critic.

However, as your address is close to one of the famous artists' havens, I'd suggest you contact some of the art galleries in that city. I'm sure they can better advise you as to the commercial sources available than I can.

Dear Nana:
Although I'm only a new subscriber to our local paper, I was pleased to discover your column for the oldsters. As there seems to be very little this day and age that's pertinent and explicitly for the older generation.

And I think it would be great if someone of means would donate copies of this kind of column as well as gift subscriptions of magazines like the Harvest Years, Modern Maturity, etc.

I have many friends who do volunteer work in convalescent hospitals and my mother-in-law is also residing in one. I know the elderly who live in these homes would greatly appreciate this reading material as their idle hours are long and do drag. Any advice you can give me on this matter will be appreciated.

Reading Material:
Dear Reading Material:
I agree it would be wonderful if the older generation had access to this type of reading material. Yet, I seriously doubt that you'll find many people who'd be willing to donate these subscriptions.

However, I do have a suggestion that might be helpful in getting reading material for the convalescent hospitals you're associated with.

I'd contact your local senior citizens' center and ask them for their magazines and newspapers when they're through with them.

Many of the rest homes, nursing homes and convalescent hospitals in our area exchange their magazine and newspaper subscriptions.

I've found that there are many private homes as well as businesses who don't know what to do with their old magazines so they throw them out. However, if you'd agree to collect them I'm sure anyone would be glad to save them for you.

Questions on problems of the elderly may be sent to Copley News Service, P. O. Box 180, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

Runners Spark 17-7 GCHS Win At Edwardsville

By STEVE BURDGE
GCHS Football Writer

Spilling the annual homecoming football game of the Edwardsville Tigers on Friday night, the Granite City High School football Warriors won 17-7 to record their initial 1971 Southwestern Conference victory.

Now 1-2-1 in league play, the Granite City Warriors are 4-21 overall as they await an open date this weekend. Their next action will be Friday night, Nov. 12, when they will travel to Belleville West.

The Warrior offense moved the ball well but fumbles plagued some of the scoring chances. The GCHS defense contained the Tiger attack, forcing three enemy fumbles.

Granite City backs ran out of a wishbone-T formation. The backfield was made up of Jim Robbers, Chuck Logan and Jon Stagner, in addition to Quarterback Joe Wallace.

Stan Suddhar, leading Warrior rusher, did not play due to a shoulder injury. However, his teammates effectively took over the running chores. Robbers carried the ball 19 times for 81 yards, an average gain of 4.2 yards.

Logan had even greater success, moving 86 yards on nine runs for a 9.5 average. And Stagner gained 33 yards in nine carries for a 3.8-yard average.

With the help of such awesome running, GCHS jumped to an early lead. The Warriors moved the ball 54 yards in eight plays for a touchdown, climaxed by a five-yard pass from Wallace to Logan in the end zone. Wallace kicked the seventh point.

Two plays after the Warriors sent the next kickoff aloft, Jeff Worthen of GCHS caught up with Tiger Quarterback Bob Ligon and Warrior Randy Ganz fell on a fumble, giving his team possession on the Edwardsville 20-yard-line.

Two running plays advanced

LET'S TALK IT OVER!

For years you may have wanted a new home or a better one. The time has now come to make a decision. Should you buy or build now or wait until interest rates come down.

Frankly, it may take a long time for rates to go lower, if ever, and in the meantime inflation continues to drive home costs higher and higher. A talk with our loan officer at this time may prove helpful. Stop in.

SCORING RECORD. SIU-SW set a new soccer scoring record Thursday as the Cougars defeated the University of Jacksonville, Fla. here, 13-0. Tom Galati, an SIU-SW halfback, goes high in the air to score the eleventh Cougar goal of the day.

Cougars Break Records, Enemy Game Plans with Shutout After Shutout

The stage is set for a titanic soccer battle at 2 p.m. Saturday as St. Louis based SIU-SW and St. Louis U., ranked fifth and first nationally. The SIU-SW Cougars won two home games last week, blasting Jacksonville (Fla.) 13-0 Thursday and Wisconsin U.-Parkside 7-0 Saturday.

Nine players scored as SIU-SW established a school single-game scoring record over Jacksonville. The Cougars are now 8-1 to St. Louis' 12-0.

John Curena paced the offense Thursday with three goals. Bob Kesson and Tim Putnam each scored twice and there were single goals by John Demoski, Vince Fassi, Tom Galati, Joe Gallagher, Chris Carena and Tom Twilman.

Before a homecoming crowd of 4,111 students and graduates, Saturday afternoon, SIU-SW barraged the enemy goal with 14 shots to Parkside's six on-target shots.

It was the Cougar's fifth straight shutout, and they have seven in all this season.

They had a 74-6 edge in shots on goal Thursday.

Scorers Saturday were John Curena, two, for a season total of 15; brother Chris Carena, also two goals; and John Meyer, a substitute forward, three goals.

Madison Rally Wins 12-6 on Dupo Gridiron

Trailing 6-0 at halftime, the football Trojans of Madison High School put together a dozen third-quarter points to conquer the Dupo Tigers 12-6 in enemy territory Friday night.

The win gave MHS a 2-5 season record and left Dupo without a victory or tie in six outings.

MHS Halfback Ed Chandler, inactive in the first period, was the dominant athlete on the field in the third period.

Receiving the kickoff after intermission, Madison prepared to begin its efforts from its own 20-yard-line. The first play, Chandler blitzed through the line on an off-tackle play and outraced all opponents on an 89-yard touchdown scamper, tying the score at 6-6.

The extra-point try failed but the Trojans wasted no time in going into the lead. They kicked off to the Tigers, who fumbled after a long return, putting MHS into possession of the pigskin on its own 44.

Madison marched goalward and Chandler tallied on a three-yard run to end the scoring. Runs failed after both of the MHS touchdowns and also after the Dupo TD, which was recorded in the second quarter. Quarterback Gene McKinney ran around left end 35 yards for the score.

Except for Chandler, MHS Coach Al Vander Haar fielded an unusually young team as part of his effort to build for the future.

Three freshmen started for the Trojans, along with many sophomores, gaining the kind of seasoning which should give them an advantage over other athletes of their age in subsequent years.

Although lacking in speed and handicapped by prior injuries, the Dupo squad played a relatively effective game on defense. And the Tigers were able to carry out numerous end plays.

Chandler totaled 129 yards as his team completed 208-141 and 27-4 yardage advantages on the ground and in the air. Madison garnered seven first downs to Dupo's five.

Uncased Guns Head the List of Hunter Arrests

By RAY SERATI
Copy News Service

Springfield — With the winter hunting season fast approaching, William Miller, chief of the Law Enforcement Division of the Illinois Conservation Department, is hopeful that the majority of the hunters will do as they did last year and hunt successfully.

Miller points out that last year 450,000 hunting licenses were sold throughout the state. Of that total, only 1,040 hunters were arrested in the four top categories which cause the most problems.

Miller adds that this is a credit to the hunters of the state. He believes the majority of hunters want to obey the law and hunt according to all regulations.

The top hunting violation last year was carrying an uncased gun in a vehicle. In this section, there were 334 arrests, Illinois law prohibits an uncased gun in a vehicle. It must be placed in its case once the gun is placed inside an auto.

The next top infraction was hunting on someone's property without the needed permission. In this area 298 arrests were recorded by Miller's division.

96% of Land Private

Nearly 96% of the land in Illinois is privately owned. Miller and the game wardens point out that, under state regulations, it is the responsibility of the hunter to find out if the land is properly posted and whose land he is hunting on.

It must also be pointed out that the law does not require that "no hunting" signs be posted. Many hunters usually look for the signs, and if they do not see any, go ahead and hunt on the land.

Hunting without a license also was a top offense last year. But arrest in this section only amounted to 243.

Miller suggests that a hunter check all of his hunting licenses and permits prior to going into the field to hunt.

The next leading category was hunting from a road; 78 such arrests were made. It is against the law to hunt, or to shoot a gun, from the road or right-of-way.

GCHS Kickers Earn 9th Win By Downing Jacksonville 5-0

The winning streak for the unbeaten GCHS varsity soccer squad was extended to nine consecutive games with a 5-0 victory over Jacksonville here Saturday. The sophomore squad earned its first win by defeating Jacksonville 4-0.

Prospects for a perfect varsity season are bright; of seven remaining games this season, the Warriors have defeated five in previous games.

The two teams which the Warriors have not yet met are St. Henry of Belleville and Priory of St. Louis. "I don't see anyone on the schedule we are afraid of," Coach John Selmeier commented after reviewing win-loss records.

On Wednesday, the kickers will travel to Waterloo for a 4 p.m. game with Gibault. The Warriors won 8-2 the last time they met, on Oct. 5.

In Saturday's varsity action, the Warriors were confused through most of the first half as Jacksonville's players maintained a cross-crashing defense, something GCHS had not seen this year.

Goal by Conway

To combat the unconventional defense, the Warriors began gun passing the ball from side to side, which allowed Jim Conway to find an opening from the left side at 22 minutes into the first period. His kick caused a defender and slid by the goalie.

Four minutes later, Randy Worthen passed across the field to Bill Brombauer for the second score.

Carl Duke took control of the ball 10 minutes into the second half and passed from the right side of the field to Worthen on the left side and Worthen found in open hole to the net. "It was a perfectly executed play, the kind we have been practicing," Selmeier said.

Conway took a pass from Worthen at 20 minutes into the period for a point, the Warrior's fourth, and with one minute remaining in the period substitutes earned the final goal.

Harizal Tallies

The score was on a cross from Paul Jungels on the left side to Chris Harizal in front of the net. Harizal blasted a kick which the goalie could not move fast enough to block.

David Baugh, a junior, was the hero of the junior varsity victory, as he booted in three of the game's four goals. Sophomore Ted Geggus got the fourth goal.

Selmeier received word this week that Hancock High School of Lemay, Mo., has forfeited its 1-18 game against the Warriors. A boycott by Hancock players had caused the postponement.

GC Swimmers Help Gain Decisive Win

Seven Granite City swimmers aided in a 166-point win margin Sunday for the East St. Louis YMCA over Edwardsville YMCA. The 423-257 dual meet, was held at Edwardsville.

Capturing three first place wins were Janet Becherer, 9-10, in 200-yard medley relay, 100-yard individual medley and 50-yard butterfly; Judy Reisinger, 11-12, 100-yard individual medley, 100-yard butterfly and 200-yard freestyle relay; and Karen Reisinger, 13-14, 200-yard individual medley; Scott Buenger, 9-10, first, 200-yard freestyle relay.

David Jolly, 9-10, first, 200-yard medley relay, and second, 100-yard individual medley and 50-yard butterfly; Eric Cunningham, 15-18, first, 200-yard freestyle and 200-yard medley relay and second, 200-yard individual medley; and Mark Becherer, 15-18, third, 100-yard breaststroke.

High School Basketball Rule Changes Explained

Meetings are being held including one at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 10 at Edwardsville High School — to discuss 1971-72 basketball rules.

The meetings are sponsored by the Illinois High School Association and are organized for the purpose of acquainting high school coaches and officials with the current basketball code and with rules changes for the coming season.

Five interpreters, selected from among the state's prominent athletic officials, will conduct the discussions. Interpreters appointed for 1971-72 are: L. L. Astorch, Chicago; Ernest Lieberman, Chicago; Ray McKinley, Normal; Frank Moran, Hazel Crest; and Keith Parker, Granite City.

The IHSA has carefully schooled these instructors in the various rules programs, and their interpretations will be used by all high school coaches and officials. Astorch will speak at Edwardsville.

All Illinois high schools play under the official basketball rules as adopted by the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada, representing such organizations as the NCAA and the National Federation of State High School Associations.

Following are the more significant changes for the 1971-72 basketball season: (1) The official scorebook shall remain at the table throughout the game, including intermissions.

(2) The five-second time limit for a closely guarded dribbler now applies to the fore court.

(3) Only one non-jumper may occupy a space which is on the perimeter of a jump circle.

(4) Free throwers may not leave the free-throw circle after the ball becomes alive until the ball touches the ring or the backboard, or until the free-throw ends.

Thieves Get Tools

Gracen Davis, 2305 State St., reported at 9:15 p.m. Thursday that entry was gained into his auto by prying open a window. A tool box and an assortment of tools were taken.

MORE ABOUT Evidence

Investigation should be made," Portell said. "I also feel this should be made public since I am a public official."

"These exhibits along with a considerable amount of other monies are entrusted to me as clerk of the circuit court."

To Continue Probe

"This investigation (by the sheriff's office) speaks for itself. We will continue this investigation and try to make it conclusive," Portell said.

Portell added that if any employee of his office is found responsible for neglect in handling of the evidence, he will be fired.

Missing evidence in the 1968 burglary case consisted of a sealed envelope containing cash in the amount of $87.54 and an undetermined number of checks made out for unknown amounts, Walker said.

In the 1970 Clinco Market robbery case, the missing evidence consisted of a sealed envelope containing cash in the undetermined number of checks made out in amounts totaling $200.95 for a total of $735.95, the sheriff's office reported.

Security Inadequate
Detective Walker said that in discussion with George Ramach, chief deputy circuit clerk, "Ramach admits that the present system for the storage of materials entered into evidence is very inadequate. Ramach said that no inventories have been made of the safe evidence contents."

An appeal of the 1968 burglary case is being heard in the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon and the respective evidence as described above has not been found," Walker said.

He added that he discussed the matter with the appellate court clerk's office at Mount Vernon and that the $87.54 was not among evidence in the case at Mount Vernon.

"Therefore," Walker reported, "the time of the thefts are undetermined. The number of people that have access to the safe is undetermined."

"The possibility of other evidence missing is undetermined, plus there is an undetermined number of employees of other offices in the courthouse and the public who file by the safe during business hours. Applications for passports are handled only a few feet away from the open safe."

Safe Open All Day

Examination of the safe, Walker continued, showed that the outside combination is faulty and that the safe is secured by locking the inside door with a key. He said the safe is opened at 9 a.m. during business days and locked at 5 p.m., with the key placed in an unlocked desk drawer "only a few feet away from the safe."

In a report to Sheriff John Maeras, Walker said he had questioned all employees in Portell's office and all had signed waivers to take a polygraph test, including Portell and Ramach.

The money held as evidence in the Clinco robbery was discovered missing when an in-

He said that at present, Laclede's incoming orders of industrial products have taken a downturn and are "below what we would normally expect at this time of year."

He noted that the construction business is slow now, and that "we are entering the winter season, when construction is restricted."

Askin concluded with the statement that it is difficult to predict fourth-quarter results and difficult to determine when improved shipping levels can be expected.

Good Weather Attracts Record Halloween Crowd

Balmy weather lured the largest group of masqueraders in several years to downtown Granite City Saturday evening for the traditional Halloween parade, co-sponsored by Moose Lodge 272 and the Granite City Downtown Shopping Center Merchants.

More than 350 youthful paraders gathered at the city hall steps on Niedringhaus Avenue before winding their way before winding their way through the downtown business district in one of the sprieliest and colorful throngs seen in the past few Halloween seasons.

Flashing lights and sirens, originated from a cavalcade of escort vehicles, including the Rolling Nobles motor scooter patrol from the Tri-City Shrine Club and the Granite City Police Department. The marchers not only were diversely costumed but ranged in age from toddlers to young-at-heart adults.

Nine top awards were presented in three categories of costume competition, with a total of 75 cash consolation prizes also distributed to parade participants.

Costume Winners
Edward Chastin, Moose Club civic affairs chairman and parade marshal, today announced the winners as:

"Best Dressed"—first place, Janalee Leibold, 8, of 2294 Delmar Ave., bride; second place, Rhonda Zimelman, 3702 Ponton Road; and third, Valerie Bonelling, 1357 Edwardsville Road, Madison.

"Most Original"—first place, Debra and Melody Hand, 15 and 9 years, 3801 B St., Ponton Beach, Snoopy and the Red Baron; second place, Carol Ellis, 3048 Namooki Road; and third, Steven Bosworth, 2251 Clinton Drive.

"Most Comical"—first place, place, Debbie and Sandy Vasiloff, 13 and 9 years, 2006 Cleveland Blvd., and Sherry Olson, 9 years, 2013 Delmar Ave., six-leaved leopard; second place, Don Borzer, 2037 McCasland Ave., Madison; and third, Janet Fox, 2906 Sunset Drive.

The Hand girls, together with two brothers and a younger sister, captured all three "Best Dressed" prizes in an unprecedented feat in last year's Halloween parade.

In addition to the customary witches, hobgoblins and spooks, one local family displayed a unique wooden aircraft which later was disassembled and packed into the family car after the parade ended.

A tiny toddler clutched a Raggedy Ann doll, the exact counterpart of her first Halloween costume, and a covey of spirited youngsters pranced about swishing the tails of their leopard-skin suits, obviously enjoying the festivities although failing to win an award.

Instead of advancing money for planning as part of the projects, the anti-pollution agencies allocate funds after all preliminary work is done and the construction work is started.

The city's only available funds to finance its share of the work are to be obtained with a bond issue. Since the city's share of cost is estimated at 20% of the $15.2 million construction estimate, a bond issue of $3 million will be needed.

Miss Barbara Wasylak Married at St. Mary's

'Build a New Earth' Is Theme For Church Women's World Community Day

The Quad City Council of Church Women United's annual "World Community Day Celebration" will be held Friday, at Mitchell Presbyterian Church on Chain of Rocks Road.

The theme of the services is "Build a New Earth," with Mrs. Charles (Louise) Belt as guest speaker.

Mrs. Belt, a graduate of Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart, mother of five children and the wife of a geology instructor at St. Louis University, will use as her topic, "The Ecological Household."

The guest speaker currently is active in the St. Louis region in two ecological organizations—the Coalition for the Environment, and the Committee for Environmental Information. The latter group has a membership of 800, with 40 affiliated organizations.

Mrs. Belt has lectured for the past two years as a representative of the two groups, and has worked with her husband on methods and matters of ecological concern. An avid organic gardener, she uses this experience in her talks.

The invocation will be given Friday by the Rev. W. E. Reipschlag, pastor of the host church, with Mrs. Paul Kratz and Mrs. Paul Gendron giving the readings. Mrs. Algie Crawford is general chairman of the celebration.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday afternoon, of Miss Barbara Wasylak, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wasylak, 1018 Greenwood St., Madison and John Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlson, 1706 Fifth St., Madison.

A 2 o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Conrad Motola before an altar holding arrangements of white floral bouquets.

Musical selections were sung by Peggy and Sherdale Lawson and Jean Harris of Springfield, Mo. The vocalists were accompanied by Mrs. Helen Ann McGarahan, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pure white sate-peau gown fashioned with a front panel of Chantilly lace scalloped at each edge. The high neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves were trimmed with ruffles and lace and a full sweep detachable train, cascading from the back waistline, was accented with lace motifs and edged with scalloped Venice lace.

A profile headpiece of pearls and matching fabric, held in place a tiered veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red Sweetheart roses.

Miss Roberta Pearce was maid of honor serving with Miss Mary Wasylak, a sister of the bride, Miss Pat Carlson, the groom's sister, Miss Mary Vrabec, a cousin of the bride, Miss Debbie Holt and Miss Debbie Kelly, bridesmaids.

The attendants were dressed alike in ruby red velvet. Deep pink lace trimmed the neckline, the front bib and encircled the waistline of the formal length gowns. Each girl carried a nosegay of pink carnations and red Sweetheart roses.

Kathy and Edward Zabotka, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer. They were dressed in similar style to the honor attendants and groomsmen.

Attending the groom as best man was Gary Wasylak, brother of the bride. David McClelland, Michael Vrabec, cousin of the bride, Howard Green, Rich Wall and Darrell Marcum completed the corps of groomsmen.

Randy Suchic and Mary Beth McClelland served as usher and usherette.

Mrs. Wasylak selected a hot pink satin frock with a mandarin collar and long sleeves. Braid in a matching shade formed a design on each side of the dress which was embellished with hot pink pearls.

The mother of the groom wore a mauve-pink gown with fitted bodice; the long sleeves and hemline edged with a

Scouts Give Review Of Camping Program

Granite City Optimist Club members were given a review of the activities at Camp Beaumont in St. Louis by three Boy Scouts whose attendance at the camp the club sponsored for a two day session, during its Thursday luncheon meeting.

The scouts, Don Courtney, Wayne Royer and Mike Kittel, all members of Troop 7 of St. Joseph Church, presented slides of the camp and events in connection with the Scout and Buddy program. They related individual experiences and their appraisals of the project.

There were 122 non-scouters attending the affair with 92 enrolling in the scout program, an increase of 70 over last year's total of 22, the boys reported.

Accompanying the local scouts at the meeting were William Monical, Boy Scout council executive, Mark Veilung, Uniwah district executive, and Leo Konzen, district chairman of Uniwah (Quad-City) district.

At the conclusion of the talks, Monical presented the Optimist Club with a scroll signed by all scout executives thanking them for sponsoring the local scouts at the camping session.

Ted Ellerman, president, conducted the business meeting, with 30 members attending. Ellerman announced two coming events of interest, the Valentine "Sweetheart Dance" which will be held jointly with another service club in February, and the Camelot Auction scheduled April 20. The auction will be conducted in lieu of the annual Christmas tree profit. Leo Konzen was named chairman and Dave Fox as co-chairman of the auction.

Committee chairmen for the year include Arthur Roseman, inter-club; Harry Johnson, fellowship; with Ivan Harrison as co-chairman; Gene Sternberg, membership; Larry Pieper, chairman, and Dave Brooks, co-chairman of Boys Work; and John McDonald, scholarship.

The president named Arthur Roseman to replace Howard Colquitt as a director.

The club voted to donate $175 to the Tri-Cities United Fund campaign. They also discussed plans to continue painting barrels to be used as trash containers on city street corners.

Former home is located—St. Thomas Road—in observance of one of the area's first school-houses and railroad boarding points—St. Thomas Station. The railroad station was near the junction of West Chain of Rocks Road and St. Thomas Road.

Mrs. Hanfelder also belonged to the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247 and the local Eastern Star chapter. Many "old" friends are expected to greet the honored guest at Sunday's reception.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT SEWING MACHINE

If you are in the market for a sewing machine, part of your decision should be made at home—before you start looking at different makes and models.

The first point to consider is the kind of sewing for which you are buying the machine.

Many homemakers use their machines only for occasional plain sewing, patching or for making simple garments. For such work a straight-sewing machine or one that has, in addition, just the zig-zag stitch, is satisfactory. This type may also be preferred by the woman whose chief interest is in dressmaking and tailoring and who has little use for machine-made decorative effects.

The more versatile swing-needle or zig-zag type machines are designed to handle a wider range in stitch styles and specially sewing, such as decorative stitching and embroidery. These machines do the jobs in that the attachments that can be bought for the straight-sewing machines—and which are so seldom used.

Added attractions on some of the newer machines include needle-threading devices, self-adjusting tensions. You must decide whether the specialty job you do often enough or the special devices are important enough to you to warrant the added cost.

Another choice rests between cabinet and portable machines. A cabinet with well-supported leaves and sturdy legs gives good sewing support and is ready for instant use. Since its main purpose is to house the machine, choose a cabinet for comfort, sturdiness, and convenience.

The portable is the usual choice where space is limited, as in small homes and apartments, or where a machine must often be moved from place to place. Some portables are merely the regular, heavy cabinet with handles attached to the sides, while others are truly portable, check to see if the machine can handle the articles.

Portables can be purchased with lightweight construction and with base and carrying case designed for the machine—sturdy and well-finished. Whether you buy a heavy or lightweight portable, check to see if the machine can handle the articles.

If you need to move a portable machine often, be sure you can lift it comfortably from the floor to the table.

A personal inspection of a variety of machines will help you decide on the one best suited to your purpose. Visit your friends and neighbors and also dealers to compare the features of one machine with another.

Choose the machine that is easy for you to operate, is readily adjusted to your varying sewing needs, and is easy to care for and keep in perfect running order.

State Pension Systems in Danger; Illinois 'Mortgaging Its Future'

By LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR PAUL SIMON

A somewhat complicated—but extremely important—matter which affects a great many Illinois citizens is the financing of pension systems. Some pension systems funded by the state, or regulated by the state, are not in good financial condition.

A good example is the Downstate Teachers' Pension System. This covers all teachers outside the City of Chicago.

The Downstate Teachers' Pension System has an "actuarial deficiency" as of June 30, 1970, of $839 million. The audit report for June 30, 1971, will not be available until around the first of the year, but I anticipate the deficit will be over $1 billion.

What does an "actuarial deficiency" mean?

This means that the actuaries, the pension experts, say that in theory the system ought to have had much additional money to be completely secure. Very few systems, however, are fully funded.

The breaking point in a system that is in reasonably good shape is one that is 75% funded. Some experts will go as low as 60%.

The Downstate Teachers' Retirement System is funded only at 34%.

That means that we can get by this year and next year, but 10 years from now or 15 years from now the system will be a great many teachers retiring and someone is going to suddenly say, "What happened to all that money?"

This is how this tremendous deficit was built up. When teacher pays $1 into the pension system, the state by law is supposed to put in $1.20.

This has not been done and it has not been done under both Democratic and Republican administrations.

For the current fiscal year, for example, an additional sum of $14 million was appropriated, but that portion was vetoed by the Governor. This year we paid 64 cents rather than $1.20.

That means that we not only lose the difference between 64 cents and $1.20, but we lose the interest on it year after year. Unfortunately, there are other examples besides the teachers' retirement system.

The State Employees' Retirement System has an actuarial deficiency as of June 30, 1970, of $279 million.

Yet, despite this deficiency, a little noted memorandum went around to all the payroll clerks in state government saying that the various offices should pay into the pension system not 64% of salary, as we have been doing, but 43% of salary.

That gets us by this year with spending a little less money. But it builds up long-range problems for ourselves.

We mortgage the future not only when we create bonded indebtedness, we also mortgage the future when we don't pay into pension systems as we should.

Normal Contacts with Red China Fine, But No Basis for UN to Oust Nationalist China

The decision by the United Nations to seat Communist China and expel Nationalist China generates mixed feelings. We spent a week on Taiwan (Formosa) during a month-long Far East visit two years ago and became acquainted with many of the Nationalist Chinese.

It is understandable and commendable that the United States is seeking to establish normal, basic contacts with Red China, which not only has a huge slice of the world's population but also has become a nuclear power.

At the same time, it is sad to see the UN's failure to seat the UN has fallen. As the Nationalist diplomat said in departing immediately prior to the expulsion resolution, he saw around him a "frenzied circus" instead of a restrained, deliberative group.

There also could be the immediate reactions of some of the UN delegates as they listened to the various member nations cast their votes.

In the interest of universality, the quarter-century area, a hard-working, successful nation whose agricultural and industrial progress has been startling despite the limited, mountainous terrain. An example of its "good neighbor" approach has been the sending of Free China Farming experts to help emerging African countries of better ways to produce essential food.

Yet, it now has rejected a country of more than 14 million people whose degree of freedom is much greater than that of the Chinese on the mainland. Taiwan is a hard-working, successful nation whose agricultural and industrial progress has been startling despite the limited, mountainous terrain.

The United Nations has implied that Communist China not only has a stranglehold on the mainland but also is a somewhat representative of the island nation of Taiwan. This is not, and if the UN ever condones or encourages enslavement of the 14 million it will be an even sordid date than Oct. 25, 1971, in the United Nations' checkered history.

by the end of 1973. Engineering costs up to this point have been $102,000.

The townships have proposed, under Madison County governmental sponsorship, to build an interceptor sewer system that would tie into Granite City sewer lines for both primary and secondary treatment. Any such plan providing the new treatment plant could delay the interceptor lines and treatment for Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau Townships. The townships' plans are about 90% complete at this time.

On paper, Granite City can comply with anti-water-pollution requirements in fine fashion, obtaining 50% from the U.S., 30% from Illinois and 20% over a period of time from the townships through their payments for treatment service. The totals 100%, but the meantime there is the need to finance further engineering design and initial construction.

Chamber Seeking to Aid Business Growth, Improve Local Community

By EDWARD B. KELLOGG

Executive Manager, Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities Area

The urge to build cities is elemental. It is one of the oldest instincts of man, and it has persisted through the ages. The Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities is organized primarily to give expression to that instinct.

Wide and varied as its activities are, its first and foremost function is to build the Tri-Cities area by increasing its population, health and standard of living.

To achieve these objectives, the Chamber has two principal fields of activity:

1. Increasing the wealth and prosperity of the area by facilitating the growth of existing business and fostering new ones.

2. Employing the wealth thus created in establishing and improving the civic, educational and cultural facilities of the community in order to keep existing business and employ here, and to attract additional desirable business and industry.

Some may ask, "Why should the Tri-Cities area grow? Why can't we stay just the way we are?"

In a real sense, the Chamber is the epitome of the enterprise system. It incarnates the American idea of progress and growth.

It provides the agency through which men and women may voluntarily pool their energies and resources to collectively do things for the general welfare of the Tri-Cities area that no individual can do alone.

Day Hospital Plan Given Wide Acceptance

Community approval of plans for a Day Hospital for clients of the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic has been widespread since the initial announcement of such a plan, but more assistance from area residents and organizations will be needed to provide adequate equipment for the new unit to be located in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Many donations have been received from individuals and clubs in Collinsville and Edwardsville, as well as the Quad-City area. Clinic funds cannot be used to purchase such items. Local residents and clubs who have given items to be used at the hospital are Ladies' Coterie, record player, records, dishes, silverware; Mrs. West, kitchenware; L. Paschoff, refrigerator, stove, two chairs; Mrs. Marlene Noon, Mrs. Melva Winnie and Mrs. Doris Malone, all of Granite City, books, records, games, glassware; Theda Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, books, records, glassware and games. Mrs. Geraldine Bradley, Collinsville, two upholstered chairs; Mr. and Mrs. Kinder, Madison, floor lamp, two chairs; Ray Smith, vice-president of Graham's Book Store, typewriter, adding machine and miscellaneous items, and James Milam, coffee table.

Offer Reduced Rates
The YMCA has offered its facilities to the group at a nominal fee, and Tri-Mor bowling lanes will allow the clients to bowl at a reduced rate.

Monetary donations have been received from the Nameoki Women's Club, Granite City, $100; Royal Neighbors of America, Edwardsville, $2; Macedonia-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society, Madison, $10; American Legion Auxiliary, Leighton, $10; and Nu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Granite City, $50. Equipment still needed for the hospital includes a desk and chair, bookcases, kitchen table and chairs, kitchen utensils, magazine racks or holders, couches and living room type chairs, card tables and chairs, small side tables, all types of lamps, books, playable records, puzzles and games that are complete and usable, mini-bus for transportation, typewriter and adding machine.

Gifts of money are also needed to replenish two funds, a recreational fund to cover expenses of recreational activities at the YMCA, bowling lanes or other establishments, and a Rehabilitation Fund which is used to advance clients money for transportation. This account will be reimbursed by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation from the state as clients participate in its program.

Will Increase Capacity
Ten people are attending the daily sessions of the new-oriented program. Without this participation they possibly would have been hospitalized.

When the move is made to St. Elizabeth Hospital, the unit will be able to handle up to 30 people in the larger area.

Tentative plans are to move the operation in early January. The moving date will depend on the completion of the new wing at the hospital and the vacating of the area to be used by the Day Hospital.

"I now have a complete Day Hospital staff assisting me with the weekly program that was originally planned for the patients," William T. Atkins, M.D., director, said. "We are in full operation as far as the activities and the daily program is concerned, but on a smaller scale."

Staff members include, Dr. A. M. Dattin, M.D., medical director; John V. Johnson, M.D., psychiatric social worker; Mrs. Cheryl Hilgenberg, G.N., psychiatric nurse; Mrs. Sheila West, M.A., psychologist; Mrs. Betty Harmon, recreational therapist, and Mrs. Kathy Moore, secretary-receptionist.

The ultimate goal of the overall program is to provide adequate care, intensive treatment and counseling for the mentally ill on a weekly basis and prevent their return or admission to a hospital, Atkins noted.

Offers Greater Help
Atkins added, "With a program such as this, we will be able to expend our help to the mentally ill and rehabilitate them to a useful and productive life in the community, so they may return to a normal way of life."

As part of the therapeutic schedule, the group attends special activities three afternoons a week. Monday they usually have a picnic and recreation period at the park; on Wednesday they take part in a physical education program with games and exercises at the YMCA, and Friday afternoon they either swim at the "Y" or bowl at a local bowling establishment.

On a long range plan the clients who have shown great improvement at the Day Hospital are evaluated as to the type of employment for which they are best suited. They are then sent to a training school in St. Louis, to SIU-SW or to a specialized services unit.

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation assumes this final stage of the clients' training and at the conclusion of the school attendance provides job interviews.

Anyone with donations may contact William T. Atkins at the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center, 2024 State St., or call 877-4420.

Lindberg Is Eager For Secretary of State Position

By JERRY OWENS
Copy News Service

Springfield, Ill. — Rep. George C. Lindberg, R-Crystal Lake, has become the first Republican in the state to publicly express desire to be a presidential candidate for secretary of state in 1972.

"Yes, very much so," says the 39-year-old attorney when asked if he is interested in running for secretary of state. "It's an office I have suffered a long time. It has been held in poor regard as far as integrity of a state office, but it doesn't have to be that way."

"I believe I could be a good administrator and, at the same time, help restore public confidence in the office."

He adds, "I would like to run for statewide office and I would like to serve the people of this state. I am convinced the public ticket — headed by Chuck Percy and Dick Ogilvie — is going to win next year, and I'd like to be part of it."

Lindberg says he will talk to party leaders, including Ogilvie, before he decides whether to determine how much backing for the nomination he could expect.

"This should tell me whether I would be a viable candidate in '72," he comments. "But I'm not going to build up myself onto the ticket. I'll run only if assured of good, sound support."

Which means the backing of Ogilvie and the GOP state organization.

Lindberg earlier announced his candidacy for Illinois Senate from a heavily Republican district. He would be almost guaranteed of nomination.

Several other prominent Republicans have been mentioned as prospective secretary of state candidates. Among them are John Al. Atorfer, William Harris, Edmund Kucharski and William Cellini.

However, Lindberg is the first to publicly make himself available.

He says his interest is based on the assumption that Republican Secretary of State John Lewis will not run. It is generally believed that Lewis will seek himself out of contention.

Lindberg's main supporter at the moment is fellow Rep. James "Pat" Philip of Elmhurst, Republican chairman of DuPage County.

Philip's backing has made Republican leaders sit up and take notice of Lindberg, for DuPage County (percentage-wise) is the strongest GOP county in the state and one of the strongest in the nation. It is populous county just west of Chicago and Cook County.

Lindberg is a three-term legislator. He has a statewide reputation by virtue of being chairman of the newsmaking House Ethics in Government Commission, which is leading the fight for strong governmental ethics legislation this session.

In the past, he headed the special investigative panel that investigated ethics in the judiciary.

Tough ethics legislation may emerge from this session, and the package will no doubt bear a strong Lindberg imprint. It would not be surprising if he has a campaign issue next year with Lindberg posing as "Mr. Clean" promising long-overdue reform in the secretary of state's office.

Though he holds no official leadership post in the House, Lindberg is one of the leading Republican lawmakers. In addition to heading the

Committee Favors Bill for Disclosing Lobby Actions

A new bill to provide for disclosure of lobbying activities was approved last week by the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., announced. The bill would repeal the 1966 "Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act," which, he said, has not proved effective.

"This bill," Price emphasized, "is a disclosure statute designed to inform the Congress and the public about the expenditures and other activities of persons who, for pay, support or oppose legislative measures."

The bill is a substitute for a measure (H. R. 3289) offered by Cong. Phil C. Jack, R-Jackson, Mo., and the bill is a disclosure statute designed to inform the Congress and the public about the expenditures and other activities of persons who, for pay, support or oppose legislative measures.

However, since Bi-State Transit System buses must operate on crowded city streets; they are unable to offer the inducement necessary to attract riders from their automobile.

James W. Roy, a switchman in the Madison yards, charged that while working on April 12, 1971, a drawbar failed to operate properly, causing permanent injuries to his face, head and body. He seeks judgment of $100,000.

Charles Miller alleged that while working in the Madison yards on May 9, 1971, a faulty switch failed to operate properly causing him to permanently injure his head, back and body. He requests judgment of $75,000.

James Warford charged that while he was working in the Madison yards on Aug. 31, 1971, a drawbar failed to operate properly, resulting in permanent injuries. He seeks judgment of $75,000.

State Capitol Visits Popular Year-Around

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield — There was a time when tourists only visited the Illinois Capitol Building during the late spring and through the summer months, and this was also the time for students.

But this has all changed. In recent years tourists and the visiting students have been coming on a year-around basis. Various groups of students have been coming to the state capital and adjacent buildings since school opened in September.

Greeting the groups of students and tourists are the state capitol guides headed by Mrs. Betty Rice in the office of Secretary of State John W. Lewis. The guides have ample knowledge of the state capitol building and they also give out information booklets and pamphlets.

The guides always provide interesting sidelights to the building which a person will miss if he goes through the building by himself.

An added attraction now at the capitol building is the fact that the General Assembly is in its fall session. When the Assembly is in session, nearly everyone wants to take time out to watch the floor action.

In some instances, legislators from the respective areas talk to the students or have pictures taken with them on the steps of the building.

At times, several hundred students tour the building in one day. This does not include the tourists. Many times the students come through in such large numbers that they cause a thunderous noise in the capitol rotunda.

A sidelight on a tour of the capitol building complex is a visit to the Illinois State Museum. The museum is to the south of the capitol building.

Exhibits at the museum provide new insights into the state's history.

Also, a visit should be made to the restored Old State Capitol Building in downtown Springfield. It has been receiving its share of visitors recently, and deserves it; the building is steeped in Illinois history.

NEW STARS AND STRIPES. Captain Ronald J. Kerley, Salvation Army commandant, at left, accepts a new flag from Harry Ellis, commander of Tri-City American Legion Post 113. The presentation was made at the Army's Citadel, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, where the gift flag will replace a 48-star version previously displayed.

Enters Guilty Plea To Reduced Charge

Ed Fitzpatrick, 1710 Delmar Ave., has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of theft under $150 in the alleged theft of a motorcycle here July 12.

James Leroy Liles, Room 2, 1310 Eighteenth St., was released on $5,000 recognizance bond after the court heard an appeal to have his present one-year probation revoked. Liles is charged with forgery in allegedly attempting to cash a stolen $74 check at Schermer's Market in Madison Feb. 9. The court is to act in the case Nov. 18.

Bigger Pensions For State Party Leaders Sought

By NANCY DAY
Copley News Service

Springfield—Amid a state financial crisis, legislation is before the General Assembly which would increase pension benefits for party leaders.

The bills have bipartisan sponsorship, although some of the rank and file legislators are upset at the preferential treatment the bills would provide.

Ed McCright of the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois testified before the House Pensions Committee against a House bill which would reduce the qualifying period for benefits for officers from four years to two years.

Better Communications Goal of Saturday Meet

An opportunity for parents of kindergarten through sixth grade students in the Granite City School District to meet with teachers from each school and to have questions about school activities answered will be provided from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at the Granite City High School cafeteria.

The meeting arrangements result from the You-Nited for action conference sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities during the summer, at which some parents expressed dissatisfaction with teachers and with communications between themselves, the teachers and school administrators.

At the conference, an Education Committee headed by Avery Schermer of Madison was established. It has been planning means of better improving relations between educators and parents.

Saturday's meeting will be the first activity sponsored by the committee. If successful, the meetings may be scheduled monthly and may be expanded into the Madison and Venice districts; William Gushel, project chairman, said.

Howlett to Test New Non-Public School Aid Bills

To bring an immediate court test of the new aid-to-nonpublic-schoolchildren legislation, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, has instructed his employees not to issue any "parochial" checks. No such checks will be written in Howlett's office without a court order.

"This action is not to be construed as opposition to state aid," said Howlett. "I have supported state aid to private school since for many years. I commend the legislators who passed the bills, and Governor Ogilvie for his consistent support."

"Throughout the debate in the General Assembly, the question of constitutionality was raised. I believe state aid is legal under the Constitution, but a suit to force me to pay out the money is the quickest way to find out."

The General Assembly voted a $30 million appropriation to help private schoolchildren. The measure became law with Governor Ogilvie's signature, which Howlett said he anticipates shortly.

525 Licenses For Bingo in State So Far

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—While bingo cards haven't exactly flooded the state, now that the game is legal for charitable groups, a steady stream of applications for bingo licenses is reported by the Illinois Revenue Department.

A little less than 500, "probably about 525," licenses had been issued by late October, just over three weeks after the date when the game became legal in the state.

The licenses being issued now, at a cost of $200 each, will be good for less than a year, expiring next June 30. Future licenses, however, will be issued for one-year periods.

Of the gross receipts from the games, the state takes 10% off the top, with that share being divided between the state's medical and educational funds. The sponsoring group then pays for prizes and claims its profit, out of the nine-tenths remaining.

Retail Sales Volume 6% Higher for Month

Illinois merchants reported an increase in sales in September 1971 compared with 1970, according to the Illinois Retail Merchants Association's Retailers Sales Performance Comparison Report. The report shows a median increase of 6% for September among participating stores.

The association's hardware appliance and home furnishings store group reported a median increase of 8% for the month and 11% for the calendar year to date. The apparel and shoe stores group reported a median increase of 6% for the month and 9% for the year.

Department stores reported a median sales increase of 6% for the month and an increase of 4% for the calendar year to date.

Specialty shops and food stores reported a median sales volume increase of 2% for September 1971, compared with 1970 and an increase of 10% for the calendar year compared with the same period in 1970.

Selected IRMA member stores across the state, in every merchandise line, report the percent of change for both the month and the calendar year. Each store is numbered code and participants receive a complete report each month.

$15,000 Suit Fled Against Reilly Tax

A $15,000 damage suit has been filed by James Hicks against Reilly Tax and Chemical Corp. in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Hicks alleges that on March 8, while walking through a company storehouse, he fell over an anvil on the floor and suffered permanent injuries. He charged negligence in not lighting the area properly and for allowing obstructions in dangerous places.

THERMOSTAT

If you have Electric Heat, here's a money-saving tip:
When you're not using a room

COOL IT

Your electrically heated home probably has several thermostats for room-by-room temperature control. That makes for pleasant living, and it also gives you a way to save money.

For instance, during the day you could set your bedroom thermostat down to 60° and, before retiring, set it back up to the sleeping temperature you prefer.

Do the same with any room that is seldom used such as a guest room, party room or workshop... cool it until you're ready to use it.

This is another of the many advantages of electric heat: you use only the heat you need, where and when you need it.

2, 1970.

Should you go first and I remain, to walk the road alone.

I'll live in memories garden,
dear, with happy days we've known.

In spring I'll wait for roses red,
when faded, the lilacs blue.
In early fall when the leaves fall, I'll catch a glimpse of you.

Should you go first and I remain, for battles to be fought.

Each thing you've touched along the way will be a hallowed spot.

I'll hear your voice, I'll see you smile, the bindly I may grope.

The memory of your helping hand will buoy me on with hope.

Should you go first and I remain, one thing I'll have you do.

Walk slowly down that long path, for soon I'll follow
you.

I want to know each step you take, so I may take the same.
For someday down that lonely road, you'll hear me call your name.

Farm Column

By WARREN W. BUNDY
Madison County
Extension Adviser

Madison county farmers continue to report generally good corn yields but low soybean yields as they progress with harvest of their more than 80,
000 acres of corn and 90,000 acres of soybeans.

It's a real tribute to farmers ability and to the total agricultural industry to bounce back this year with high corn yields after last year's corn blight damage and the potential threat of the disease to this year's crop.

Corn ends up as meat, milk, eggs, cereal, and a host of other food and industrial products. Consumers benefit from abundant farm production. Corn growers have to figure how they can make a profit this year from good corn yields at low corn prices.

With soybeans—we didn't do so well this year. Soybean yields are low, and we can blame the weather which is always one of the uncertainties in farming. An extended dry period in late summer hurt soybean yields.

Soybean prices are higher than a year ago. Farmers have to figure how they can make a profit from low soybean yields at a higher price. Consumers of soybean oil and meal products will pay more due to our smaller supply of soybeans.

Soybean variety test plots at the farm owned by Wilbur Plotter and operated by Othmar Geiger south of Alton were harvested Sept. 23. The plots were planted May 20.

Early maturing varieties yielded highest this year. In contrast with last year when the late varieties, Clark 63 and Culter, were highest.

The variety, Wayne, was highest yielding at 46.1 bushels per acre and moisture content of 13.9 percent. Yield and moisture of other varieties were Amsoy

71, 44.4 bushels and 13.1 percent moisture; Clark 63 and Culter blend, 40.3 bushels and 14.1 percent moisture; Calland,
39.6 bushels and 13.5 percent
moisture; Beeson, 39.3 bushels and 13.3 percent moisture; Cul-ter 71, 36.4 bushels and 14.1 percent moisture; and Clark 63,
34.9 bushels and 13.4 percent
moisture.

Farmers in this area of Illinois planted 62% of their soybean acreage with Wayne soybeans this year, according to the Illinois Cooperative Crop
Reporting Service. Clark 63 ac-

Deadline for Price Ceilings Extended

The Nov. 1 deadline for all merchants to have lists of ceiling prices available for the products and services they sell has been extended, according to Jay G. Philpott, District Director of Internal Revenue Service.

The IRS has been assisting the Cost of Living Council and the Office of Emergency Preparedness in carrying out President Nixon's Wage-Price-Rent Freeze Program since its inception Aug. 16.

Mr. Philpott said, "The Council is extending the deadline until the Price Commission approves its post-freeze price policies and any requirements for ceiling price lists, which may prove to be different from those currently in effect."

He emphasized that in order to comply with the present program requirement, each merchant must have either a ceiling price "list" available, or provide, on request, ceiling price information to customers by mail within 48 hours. If a ceiling price "list" is not available, the merchant must post a large sign on each floor of his establishment announcing that ceiling price information is available upon the customer's written request.

Mr. Philpott said his investigators are continuing to make spot checks of businesses to determine the extent of voluntary compliance with the President's "freeze" program.

"So far 616 spot checks have been made in the Springfield District. Of this number only 51 alleged violations were found," Mr. Philpott said.

National Documents in Elks Heritage Display

Reproductions of important documents reflecting the history of the United States have been compiled into a special exhibit for display in the Antler Room of Granite City Elks Lodge 1063.

The documents are mounted on a large 'Heritage Board' created by Clyde F. Mertz, Elks Americanism chairman, who was assisted in the project by Exalted Ruler William Howard Jr.

Unveiling of the board occurred last week during a meeting at the club. The occasion also served to mark Veteran's Day.

Contained in the exhibit are such documents as the Declaration of Independence, U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights, Monroe Doctrine, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and the Star Spangled Banner.

Also affixed to the 'Heritage Board' are the Elks Declaration of Principles and the Elks Americanism Resolution. The latter was enacted at the 1970 Elks national convention.

Two Elks members, John McCord and Robert Cox, represented local veterans' organizations during the unveiling ceremony.

Secy. of State Lewis Not To Seek Any Office in '72

Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced that he would not be a candidate for any office in 1972.

Lewis also asserted that he would complete his present term and would not resign as had been rumored.

Following is the text of his statement:

"When the Governor appointed me Secretary of State, it was expressly understood between us that, at the end of my term, I would not seek election to the office. This understanding was presented to the Governor by me of my own free will. He did not ask me to do this."

"It is quite true that there was a time, when I felt my integrity questioned and my family abused, that I seriously considered a release from my commitment. No such request was or will be made."

"Therefore, I will not be a candidate for any office in 1972."

"To the thousands of citizens who have signed petitions, contacted me personally and reached me through various communications urging me to run and offering support, I want each of you to know how sincerely grateful I am."

"Although I consider myself physically vigorous and mentally alert, the stresses, the strain and the pressures of solving the problems we found in this office are known but to a few. Certainly to be able to hand to a successor, from whichever party, an office efficiently run and fiscally sound, will be a matter of considerable pride to me."

"As to the future, you may rest assured that I will not be in hibernation. I will continue to speak up and speak out my convictions."

"Regarding an opinion of my conduct and principles over the past 30 years of office, let me permit me to be the judge of my contributions, my effectiveness and my accomplishments within this beloved state."
